IBM SkillsBuild student developer initiative

Train the next generation to future-proof their tech skills

IBM SkillsBuild is introducing a student developer initiative to train the next generation to future-proof their tech skills. Leveraging the IBM SkillsBuild network and offerings will equip students with the knowledge of AI technologies and inspire the next generation of technology leaders. The student developer initiative will start with the first stage, focusing on building foundational skills, and is free for educational institutions.

What is it?
Guided learning plan via a short-course content session offered at your institution.

Who is it for?
This initiative is open to students studying any engineering specialization. Participants will have the opportunity to explore how AI will impact their future careers, equipping them for success.

Student benefits

- AI skills aligned with future skills
- Skill development in line with industry talent needs
- IBM resources available for access
- Volunteer support from local IBMers
- Industry-led hands-on-learning

Learning topics
Your institution can choose one or more topics to be delivered in separate sessions:

1. Explore Text-to-Speech with IBM watsonx
2. Use Generative AI for Software Development
3. Build Your First Chatbot

How it works

- Implemented in collaboration with Centre for Development of Advanced Computing for free to your institution
- Session is scheduled in September by CSRBOX.
- Approximately 2 hours of learning content provided by IBM (60 minutes of IBM-led training and 90 minutes of self-learning on IBM SkillsBuild)

Join us in our endeavor to train the future of the workforce.

Sir,

This has reference to your Application ID No. 7160-04/08/2022 seeking accreditation by National Board of Accreditation to the Masters in Computer Applications program applied by Centre for Development of Advanced Computing, Anusandhan Bhawan, C-56/1 & B-30, Institutional Area, Sector-62, Noida, Gautam Budha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh- 201 309.

2. An Expert Team conducted onsite evaluation of the program from 9th to 11th June, 2023.
